

TITLE: Bottle insert for storing and dispensing baby formula

Abstract: A nursing bottle insert that stores a measured amount of powder. The insert resides inside the bottle along with a correspondingly measured amount of water for the sealed powder to mix with. The powder and the water are allowed to mix when desired by applying a force external to the bottle.